DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, and 7 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In Claim 2, line 5, "tope" should be changed to --top--. In claim 5, antecedent basis is lacking for "the engagement part". Claims 3, 6, and 7 inherit the defect in their parent claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rico in view of Nishi, et al.

Rico discloses an electromagnetic relay with a coil block (Fig. 3), base plate 23, case 5, movable core 11, movable contact 2, and an LED 54 for indicating a state of the relay (col. 6, line 10) on holder 7 disposed on a top side of the case 5. Rico is silent regarding his LED being activated during magnetization of the coil block. Nishi, et al., discloses an electromagnetic relay with an LED 19 connected across the coil 12 (col. 4, lines 51-55) for the inherent purpose of activation during magnetization of the coil block. Since Rico and Nishi are both from the same field of endeavor, the purpose disclosed by Nishi would have been recognized in the pertinent art of Rico. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to connect Rico's LED across his coil 1 for the purpose of activation during magnetization of the coil block.

Art Unit: 2832

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 2, 3, and 5-7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the prior art of record disclosed nor taught an electromagnetic relay case including an engagement part which is elastically deformed while an LED holder is being mounted, and is restored to its original shape after the holder has been mounted, the engagement part having a top end portion where an engagement claw to engage with a top edge portion of the holder is formed.
